

The above illustrations are the most common "defects" reported by customers, which are generally caused by improper assembly or handling of the product. The following table lists the most common defects and their causes.

1. The product is not working properly. 	2. The product is not working properly. 	3. The product is not working properly.
4. The product is not working properly. 	5. The product is not working properly. 	6. The product is not working properly.
7. The product is not working properly. 	8. The product is not working properly. 	9. The product is not working properly.
10. The product is not working properly. 	11. The product is not working properly. 	12. The product is not working properly.
13. The product is not working properly. 	14. The product is not working properly. 	15. The product is not working properly.
16. The product is not working properly. 	17. The product is not working properly. 	18. The product is not working properly.
		19. The product is not working properly. 